Outreach Circles

Global technology powerhouse Google uses what it calls Google plus circles to help people organize their connections with one another. "The great thing about circles," says Google, "is that they let you group people together based on how you think of them in real life."

We've launched a spin on the concept. We are beginning to organize our outreach efforts into what we are calling "Outreach Circles." We will be placing the current and future names on our calling list into circles, revolving around individual families in the church. Each person we touch will have someone who is responsible for their growth and fellowship.

The new plan is based upon Acts 1:8, "...ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth;" which is a call to reach out in a gradually widening circle. We will all be reporting in on March
